

every step counts

Count steps to help a child's brain connect the sound of the numbers with the action of each step. The more you talk, play, read and sing with a child from birth, the smarter their brain becomes.

little
moments
count

join us as we make
everyday moments count

littlemomentscount.org

soap + water = bubbles

Talk about how things work together in everyday routines, to help a child learn about connections. The more you talk, play, read and sing with a child from birth, the smarter their brain becomes.

little
moments
count

join us as we make
everyday moments count

littlemomentscount.org

1 pea, 2 peas, 3 peas please

Sing a rhyme during mealtime to help a child learn sounds of letters and words. The more you talk, play, read and sing with a child from birth, the smarter their brain becomes.

little
moments
count

join us as we make
everyday moments count

littlemomentscount.org

that car is green like grass

Point and say the colors of cars to help a child learn colors and connect the color with other items. The more you talk, play, read and sing with a child from birth, the smarter their brain becomes.

join us as we make
everyday moments count

littlemomentscount.org

what do you a,b,c

Say the name of objects in a room with the first letter to help a child begin to learn letter sounds with object names. The more you talk, play, read and sing with a child from birth, the smarter their brain becomes.

join us as we make
everyday moments count

littlemomentscount.org

up like a rocket, down like rain

Point out how the numbers light up to help a child learn basic directions and develop tactile skills. The more you talk, play, read and sing with a child from birth, the smarter their brain becomes.

little
moments
count

join us as we make
everyday moments count

littlemomentscount.org

©2021 HealthPartners